

The Times of India

Title : NYCU

Author :

Location :

Article Date : 07/21/2014

OUT IN THE WILD

Survival Instincts, India's first and only provider of American Red Cross health and safety training programs is organising a Summer Leadership Camp at Kodaikanal on August 15, 16 and 17.

The wilderness expedition is led and supervised by resident Certified American Red Cross instructors.

Anyone between 18-29 years of age as on August 1 can participate in the camp.

The purpose of this three day expedition is to develop organisational skills, teamwork, communication, problem solving, and leadership skills of participants in the context of wilderness.

Women matrons and women trainers from Survival Instincts will be supervising camps attended by girls and women.

