STREE SURAKSHA

An awareness rally was organised as part of 'Stree Suraksha' project to create awareness on acid attacks and similar crimes against women. Three acid attack victims joined the rally on Saturday jointly organised by Rotaract Club of Women's Christian College and Survival Instincts, an authorised provider of health and safety training programmes. The initiative will involve training more than 3,000 school and college girls on how to encounter a situation where they are attacked.
